EVENING SESSION. The Conference assembled, and after the Chairman of the Committee to present resolutions on the State of the Country, reported as follows: The Congregational Conference of Ohio assembled again in annual convocation at Cleveland, in the midst still of raging rebel-lion and war, cannot forbear to give expression to their thoughts and feelings in words of encouragement and cheer to their churches, as well as to those placed by the Providence as well as to those placed by the Providence of God at the helm of our nation, and who bear in their hands the sword of Justice.

1. We, as Christian men and Ministers, have been taught by our holy religion to pray for our rulers; to submit to all righteous authority and law, and to recognize civil government as of Divine institution, for the protection of society against all evil doers. We feel it, therefore, to be our especial duty and privilege, and a part of our religion to stand by our government in all its struggles with wickedness and crime, and give our with wichedness and crime, and give our lawfully appointed rulers the whole weight of our Christian influence in upholding the majesty of violated law, and assure them that they may, beyond a peradventure, rely upon us in the employment of all the means which God has put in their hands for the maintenance of those chartered rights and principlas, in the peaceful possession of which we have been so eminently blessed hitherto.

which we have been so eminently blessed hitherto.

2. While we do not deem it necessary to reiterate sentiments heretofore expressed by us, in regard to the righteousness of this war on the part of our government, and our abhorrence to that wicked system of oppression out of which it has grown, we do desire at this time of rebuke and blasphemy, and our country's peril, as mainisters and churches of the Lord Jesus Christ, to utter our solemn condemnation of that factious spirit of inondemnation of that factious spirit of incondemnation of that isotrous spirit of in-subordination and opposition to all the meas-ures of the Government in the conduct of the war and suppression of the rebellion, which grows out of a dangerous and ineati-ate lust of power, and which has a truer sympathy and alliance with the rebellion teelf, than with any righteous efforts for its itself, than with any righteous efforts for its suppression.

3. As Christian men, and members of that communion which insists pre-eminently upon the great dectrine of human equality before flod, we most cordially approve of the proclamation of freedom by the Providence of the united States, and rejoice that in the wise ordering of Divine Providence he was enabled, as the Commandor-in-Chief of our arrelations. United States, and rejoice that in the wise ordering of Divine Providence he was ena-bled, as the Commandor-in-Chief of our ar-mies, to suploy this as a legitimate weapon for the overthrow of the rebellion, and strike equipments, presented to his with this sword of justice such an effectual at the time he was drafted.

FROM COLUMBUS.

A rich affair came off on the Camp Chase Pike. Four wagons full of half inebriated delegates came up the road from Columbus, and when opposite Camp Chase, they yelled for Vallandigham. The convalescents, cripples and all, turned out en masse surrounded the wagons, and captured the growd, made them get down in the road, hustled them roughly, and compelled each and all to kneel down and take the oath of arrived here. allegiance and an oath to vote neither for Vallandigham nor any other rebel. The oaths were administered by the Semant of a Tennessee regiment. One fellow positively refused to comply with the demand, and a rope was produced, which soon brought him to terms. The soldiers, then seven hundred strong, took up the line of march for Columbus, to clean out the city. Captain Bunker, officer of the day, rode down the road, ahead of the soldiers, and made a speech to get them to return to
